I'm almost on the 5ba

It is recommended to contact Bauer USA in Norfolk Va 757-855-6006 and order the kit from them. If you're not really good friends with one of your local dive shops, don't expect them to be very friendly and helpful, as you will reduce their income. I wouldn't mind paying for their Bauer service manuals. TBone1004 user in particular is a walking encyclopedia... I'm quite self-explanatory in how to install them once you've seen them in person. Timm Bauer, who bought company from Hubsi, maintained courses. I believe that the Bauer Assistance Centers in the United States offer similar training, or if they do not, they should. You probably want help from someone who did before when you start installation an auto-off / auto-off exhaust system. Thank you, Ray, this will be very helpful. I'm one of those people who ended up with the wrong tools when Bauer changed Junior II valve scheme. Thank you very much for information The manual provided with Oceanus shows each piece installed in the compressor with the part numbers to facilitate the reordering, and marking the parts to be replaced with A, B or C indicates maintenance interval needed for the replacement. There's no way ask a contractor kindly to slit his throat. Michael with iam/hsm, and others. They should be able to tell you who to ask for help in your area. If you're not really good friends with one of your local dive shops, don't expect them to be very friendly and helpful, as you will reduce their income. I'm not a wizard Bauer, unfortunately.
